

CHOICE

If you can't make yourself heard,
help is at hand!

YOUR

The MiRA Centre

Storgata 38, Oslo

Postboks 1749 Vika

NO-0121 Oslo

Telephone 22 11 69 20

www.mirasenteret.no

ungejenter@mirasenteret.no

The Network for young girls offers:

Advice in connection with forced marriage-/conflicts between generations.

Help in connection with problems at school or work.

Seminars, courses etc.

Information.

Or perhaps you just need someone to talk to?

Contact us!

It's your life and it must be your choice!

There is a very big difference between arranging a marriage for someone and forcing someone to marry against their will.

An arranged marriage is not necessarily worse than marrying for love - the two ways of finding a partner have one thing in common: There's no guarantee of happiness...

There is no easy answer and no absolute truths. Other than one: Force is a poor basis on which to build a happy future.

Force is also against the law. A marriage where one or both of the parties don't want to marry is a forced marriage. FORCE IS ILLEGAL!

If your parents are arranging a marriage for you that is against your wishes: SAY NO!

Very few parents want to make their children unhappy, but this does happen on occasions, and we want you to know that you have the right to help!

NO ONE has the right to force you to marry against your will.

